Completing an IM4Q Interview in-Person

Two or three people will come to ask you questions for an in-person interview.

If you would like the interviewers to wear masks, you can remind them.

You can have a family member or staff with you during the interview.

The interview can be in wherever you are most comfortable.

The questions will be about services you receive, your life, health, safety, how happy you are, and the choices you get to make.

You can choose which questions to answer. You can skip questions if you do not want to answer.

Completing an IM4Q Interview in-Person

It will take about 1 hour to ask the questions.

You can take a break or stop the interview at any time.

After the survey is done, the interviewers will leave.
