

UBER & LYFT TIPS

When I need a ride somewhere, I can use the Uber or Lyft apps for public transportation.

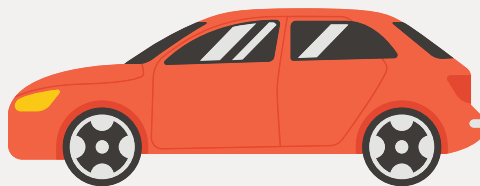

Once I request my ride, I will wait inside and stay aware of my surroundings.

I will move away from the crowd when the driver arrives so they can easily spot me.

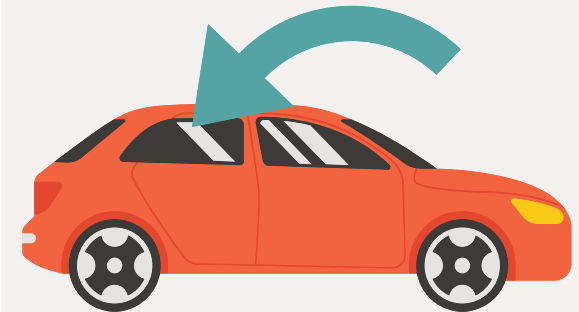

Before I talk to the driver, I will make sure the license plate number, the color of the car, and the type of car match the information on the app.

I will ask the driver, "Who are you picking up?" to make sure this ride is for me. If they say any other name than my own or refuse to answer the question, I will not get in the car.

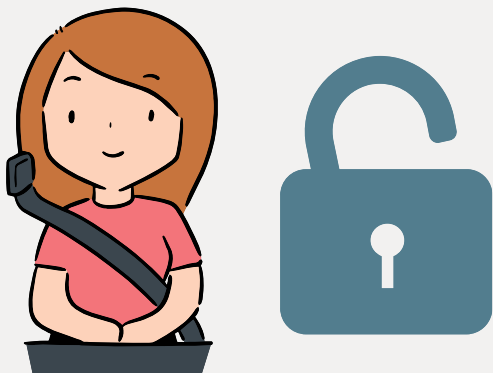

I will only sit in the back of the car and get in and out on the passenger side.

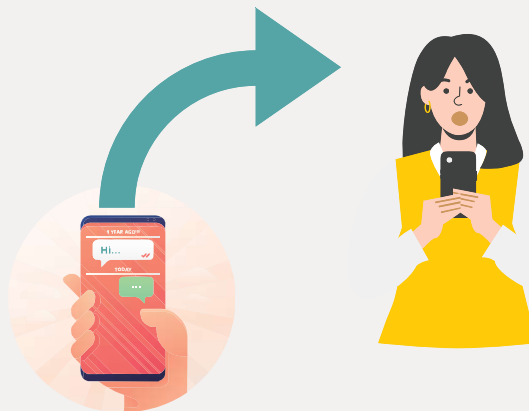

UBER & LYFT TIPS

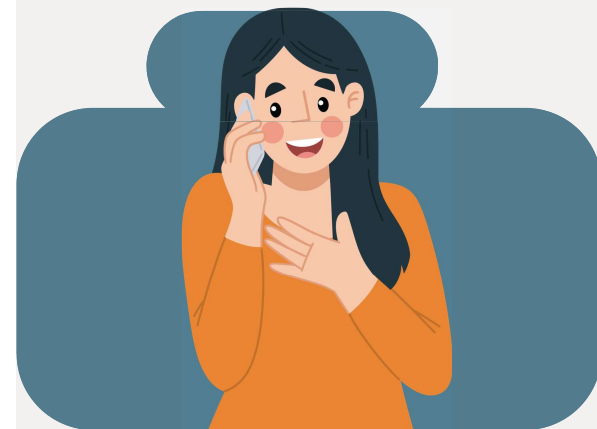

For my safety, I will always wear my seatbelt and make sure the door remains unlocked. If the child lock is on, I will ask the driver to unlock the car.

If I am alone, I will make sure the person I am meeting or any friend/family member has my ride information and details.

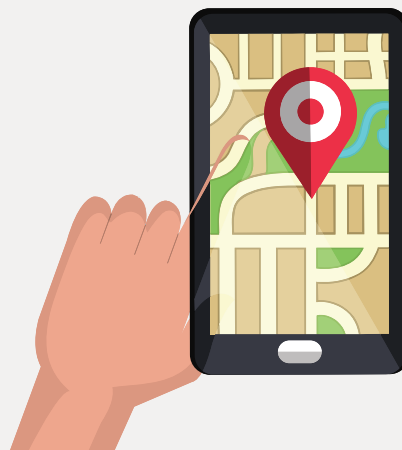

If I am anxious, I will call a friend/family member in the car so I feel less alone.

If I think I'm in an emergency situation, I will call 911 or use the panic button on the Uber and Lyft apps that call 911.

I will watch the GPS feature on the app to make sure my driver stays on route.

When we arrive at my destination, I will ask my driver to park in a well-lit, safe area and then exit.
