

Dub-C Autism Program

At
West Chester University

West Chester University is proud to introduce the Dub-C Autism Program (D-CAP) beginning Fall 2016.

DCAP is a program for:

- Increasing social opportunities on and off campus
- Meeting others on campus with ASD
- A safe environment to discuss experiences, ask questions, and better understand the changes of lifestyle/education/social interactions when going to college.
- Increasing functional, independent adult living skills
- DCAP room is available outside of group meetings to hang out, meet up with others, and have a place to go between classes.

Services include:

- Individualized Skill-Building Sessions in the areas of: social, independent living, safety, and stress management. Identify and meet individualized goals via evidence-based practices.
- Group Sessions: to discuss various topics to navigate the college lifestyle. A perfect way to meet others on the Autism Spectrum and build relationships as well as networking with others.
