

OKAY VS NOT OKAY TOUCHES

Some touches are safe and okay.

High fives and handshakes are okay touches.

Goodnight hugs and kisses from mom and dad are also okay touches.

Some touches are NOT okay.

I get to choose who is allowed to touch me.

I can also choose when people are allowed to touch me.

This campaign promotes the idea of body autonomy for individuals with disabilities. ASERT has partnered with researchers at the National Crime Victims Research and Treatment Center at the Medical University of South Carolina to develop resources for the Be Safe campaign.

The Autism Services, Education, Resources and Training (ASERT) Collaborative is a statewide initiative funded by the Bureau of Autism Services, PA Department of Human Services.

OKAY VS NOT OKAY TOUCHES

It is NOT okay for someone to hug or kiss me unless I say it is okay.

It is NOT okay for someone to rub my body unless I say it is okay.

It is NOT okay to touch my private parts unless I say it is okay.

Hitting and pulling hair are NEVER okay.

I am in charge of my body.

People should only touch me when I say it is okay.

This campaign promotes the idea of body autonomy for individuals with disabilities. ASERT has partnered with researchers at the National Crime Victims Research and Treatment Center at the Medical University of South Carolina to develop resources for the Be Safe campaign.

The Autism Services, Education, Resources and Training (ASERT) Collaborative is a statewide initiative funded by the Bureau of Autism Services, PA Department of Human Services.