THE AUTISTIC ART COALITION OF PHILADELPHIA

Where Neurologically
Accepting one another as
WE are, is the ROOT to getting along with ALL Walks of Life.

Since our grassroots on April 2, 2022, The Autistic Art Coalition of Philadelphia has made a meaningful impact within the Delaware Valley's of Philadelphia, neurodivergent, and disabled communities. Through art exhibitions and cultural experiences, we have helped launch the careers of many talented artists. We proudly serve individuals ages 4 to 65—because autism is lifelong, and support should be too.

Today we are a 501(c)(3) Nonprofit.

WHERE WE CAN BE FOUND AT:

"Our Abilities aren't hindered because of our differences. Our worth is not defined by our Neurodiversity. We can recognize, accept, embrace, and celebrate our differences."

IN TACONY:

$FREE

"The Autistic Art Coalition of Philadelphia is an autistic-run organization that provides a safe space for artists to learn, create, and have fun. Artists under 18 must be accompanied by a parent. Parents are welcome to create art as well, whether during Community Celebrity Teacher sessions or Open Studio."
